Course web-page: http://www.math.chalmers.se/Stat/Grundutb/CTH/mve136/1314/

Responsible university unit: Department of Mathematical Statistics, Mathematica Sciences, Chalmers Tvärgata 3. Expedition: Monday-Friday 9 am-1 pm.

Literature. S.L. Miller and D.G. Childers: Probability and Random Processes With Application to Signal Processing and Communications, 2004, available from Cremona Chalmer's bookshop as well as electronically from Chalmers Library. A new second edition of the book has been published Spring 2012 which can equally well be used by students: Besides the addition of more exercises to the 2012 edition, the differences between the two editions are essentially of a typographical nature. In all course material references will be given to the 2004 edition first and then to the 2012 edition afterwards within parenthesises (whenever there is a difference to the 2004 edition). Included material from the book by Miller and Childers: Sections 2.1-2.7 (2.1-2.8 in the second edition), 3.1-3.5, 4.1-4.8, 5.1-5.9, 8.1-8.6, 9.1-9.3, 10.1-10.4 and 11.1-11.6.

Lecture notes "Complement on Digital Spectral Analysis and Optimal Filtering: Theory and Exercises" authored by Mats Viberg, available through the course web-page.

Two laborations available through the course web-page.

Examination. Written exam (6 credits) 23 October 2013 pm with reexams 16 January 2014 pm and August 2014. Two mandatory laborations (1.5 credits), see the course web-page.

Permitted aids on the written exam are either two A4-sheets (4 pages) of hand-written notes (xerox-copies and/or computer print-outs are not allowed) or Beta (but not both these aids). The written exam will have 6 tasks that are worth 5 points each. Of the maximal total 30 points you need 12 points for grade 3, 18 points for grade 4 and 24 points for grade 5, respectively.
