Nanny Wermuth, short curriculum vitae, November 2016

Personal data born 4th December 1943; married since 1967, four sons and seven grandchildren

Education

1967	First degree in Economics (Diplom-Volkswirtin), University of Munich
1972	Degree in Statistics (Doctor of Philosophy), Harvard University
1977	Degree in Medical Statistics (Habilitation, Professor), University of Mainz

Professional Positions

1972–1978	Research Assistant in Statistics; University of Dortmund, University of Mainz
1978–2008	Professor of Statistics and of Methods in Psychology, University of Mainz
1997–2000	Head of Research and Development, Center of Survey Research, Mannheim
2003–2012	Professor of Statistics, Department of Mathematical Sciences at Chalmers University of Technology and the University of Gothenburg
since 2012	Professor emerita, Chalmers University of Technology and affiliated Professor, Department of Medical Psychology and Medical Sociology, Johannes Gutenberg-University, Mainz

Selected Services to the Profession

1993–2001	Coordinating member of an European Science Foundation network, Highly Structured Stochastic Systems (HSSS)
1993–2003	Editorial Advisor for the Springer Series of Statistics
1995–1996	President, German Region of the International Biometric Society
2000–2001	President, International Biometric Society
2001–2004	Chair of the Life Science Committee of the International Statistical Institute
2008–2009	President, Institute of Mathematical Statistics
2007–2010	Associate Editor of Bernoulli

Selected Recognitions

1968–1972	Stipends of the Fulbright Commission, of the International Peace Scholarship Fund and of Harvard University
1984–1985	Fulbright Scholar, Department of Statistics, Princeton University
1992	Max Planck-Research Prize, jointly with Sir David Cox, Oxford
2001	Short term Research Fellowship, Australian National University
2001–2002	Invited Research Fellow at Harvard's Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study
2011–2012	Senior Scientist Research Award, International Agency of Research on Cancer
2013	DAGSTAT medal, recognizing special achievements for Statistics in Germany
2016	Medallion Lecture of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics, Joint Statistical Meeting (JSM), Chicago

Elected

as member of the International Statistical Institute (1982) and of the German Academy of Sciences (2002); as fellow of the American Statistical Association (1989) and of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics (2001)