Abstract (20sep96): We review the results about functions of bounded variation that are relevant for geometry, especially the construction of generalized curvature measures.