Preface

The network EuroProj had an identity crisis. What to do? Get the whole scientifuic committee together and hack it out.

Originaly the meeting was to take place in Nice, the headquarters, but on the suggestion of Peskine (much to the dismay of Hirshowitz the enthusiastic co-ordinator) the site was moved to Paris. No one, except Hirshowitz had any objections, least of all me. It gave me an opportunity to arrive a day earlier, allow me some time to sightsee. And also by scheduling my returnflight late in the evening, I was also able to take advantage of the last Sunday to roam around on my own. I used the time to visit the museums of natural history in the Jardin des Plantes something I always had wanted to do for a long time.

So again the reader is treated to a blow by blow account of my impressions during a few winter days in Paris. This is the private side of the trip, there is also an official side, in the form of an official report by me, transmitted through the whole EP-network. But this will not be touched at all.
